

LADIOLI

1915

Half-million Young Gladioli Under Irrigation, Sixty Corms Per Foot.

The Best Gladioli in the World are Grown Under Irrigation

By this system the crop is matured without stunting or checking the growth, which produces vigorous and well matured corms that give results. If you have never tried "IRRIGATION-GROWN GLADIOLI," I solicit your trial order.

I here offer to the public the cream of hundreds of varieties for which I have spent years of time and much money selecting. The following list will be found very satisfactory in all respects and exactly as represented. I use no substitutes except on request.

Varieties marked (*) are especially adapted for forcing.

Terms of Business

REMITTANCES should be made by POSTOFFICE MONEY ORDERS. In case personal checks are used, 15 cents should be added to the amount of purchase to cover exchange.

PRICES here quoted include boxes and packing, and SAFE DELIVERY to any railroad point in the United States and Canada.

WARRANTY—While I exert the greatest care to send out stock true to name, sound and strong, I will be in no way responsible for the crop other than to replace such stock which may prove untrue or defective or refund its purchased price.

When ordering it is advisable to name a second choice. In some cases certain varieties are sold out early in the season.

CLUB RATES—Where three or more orders are sent to one address the total value being $10.00 or more, a special discount of 20 per cent will be allowed. For example, an order of goods at catalogued price which would amount to $10.00, same will be sent POSTPAID for $8.00, with one year's subscription to the "Modern G. Grower."

INDIVIDUAL ORDERS amounting to $1.50 and over, extra stock will be given to the amount of 10 per cent of purchase.

SPECIAL—On all orders amounting to $2.50 and over, one year's subscription to the "MODERN GLADIOLUS GROWER" will be given.

This monthly periodical, published in Calcium, N. Y., is devoted entirely to the culture of Gladioli; its columns are full of interesting and educational notes of this flower. Every lover of Gladioli should be a subscriber. Sample copies will be sent on request.

Peony Flowered or Art Dahlias

This class of Dahlias are more admired than any other type. Their large loosely arranged flowers which nearly always show a golden disk give them the appearance of a flower much different from the old garden plant we see in our minds when the word Dahlia is mentioned. Some varieties of this type are the envy of the best Chrysanthemums, in many cases the flowers measure 8-9 inches in diameter.

Prices 25c each; $2.50 per doz., except where noted.

In addition to the above I am able to supply a number of Annual Flowering Plants, such as Stocks, Centuarias, Cosmos, Scabiosas, etc.

How to Plant and Care for Gladioli

Stock should be obtained that is full of vigor, not large flat worn-out corms which will prove worthless in the end.

Soil should be of ordinary strength only, manures are very injurious if allowed to come in contact with either the roots or the corm, soil should be turned to a depth of eight inches and well pulverized.

Set the corms right side up in a trench 5 to 6 inches deep and 6 inches apart. Keep the soil porous by frequent stirrings, a hoe will be found the best tool for this work.

Water frequently after plants begin to grow, this can not be overdone when plants begin to bloom, provided the ground is kept in a porous condition.

Stakes should be provided as supports for the flowering spikes which may be ruined by wind or rain.

Corms should be taken up before hard frosts and dried out in the shade, they can then be stored in a cool damp cellar and planted out again the following spring.

Soil should be prepared in the fall and a secondary stirring given in the spring before planting.

The cormels or offsets which are found around the old corm should be planted also, it is from this source that the best and strongest corms originate.
